The Council of Europe is the continent's leading human rights organisation. It comprises 47 member states, 28 of which are members of the European Union. All Council of Europe member states have signed up to the European Convention on Human Rights, a treaty designed to protect human rights, democracy and the rule of law. The European Court of Human Rights oversees the implementation of the Convention in the member states.

Routes4U Project

Some expected results

- Improve the visibility of Cultural Routes of the four macro-regions
- Strengthen their capacities to use their full economic and cultural potential
- Encourage regional investment along the Cultural Routes

Since 1987, the Cultural Routes of the Council of Europe invite to travel and discover the rich, diverse and shared heritage of Europe. They are "based on a historic route, a cultural concept, figure or phenomenon with a transnational importance and significance for the understanding and respect of common European values".*

Networks certified by the Council of Europe comprise at least three European countries. Their activities aim to enhance European heritage, ensuring sustainable development.

*Resolution CM/Res(2013)66, Council of Europe, 2013.

Routes4U project is a joint programme between the Council of Europe (Directorate General of Democracy) and the European Union (European Commission, Directorate-General Regional and Urban Policy). The 30-Month Action aims to:

- Focus on the sustainable and resourceful development in the four EU macro-regions through the Cultural Routes of the Council of Europe.
- Contribute to the further development of cultural and tourism industries in the region.
- Strengthen participation of the civil society and local stakeholders, as recognised by the Faro Convention.

"A European Union macro-regional strategy is a policy framework which allows countries located in the same region to jointly tackle and find solutions to problems or to better use the potential they have in common."*

The European Commission plays a leading role in the strategic coordination. National and regional coordinators, as well as thematic area coordinator, ensure the implementation.

As 2018, EU macro-regional strategies have been adopted for the Adriatic-Ionian, the Alpine, the Baltic sea and the Danube macro-regions.
